The Green Gallery
MISAKO & ROSEN

booth A105

The Green Gallery is thrilled to co-present a booth at NADA Miami fair this year with our dear friends from MISAKO & ROSEN gallery, Tokyo. Artists from both gallery programs as well as a shared friend will have work on view and be available for limited purchase. Please visit our booth for the latest new works by Erika Verzutti, Mari Eastman, Fergus Feehily, Michelle Grabner, Flora Klein, Ryan Peter, Takashi Yasumura, and COBRA.

The focused set of visual tendencies exhibited are representative of both our galleries' styles. COBRA's meta sense of humor is captured in his recent Story of eggs. A seductive flirtation with representational motifs is deftly delivered in the paintings of Eastman. Feehily's idiosyncratic abstractions exert form, material and structure. Grabner's indexical object-making is exceedingly refined through her paintings and sculptures. Klein interrogates the grid as a relentless structure of the present in her latest works. Peter's surrealist tropes posit conditions of the mind today. The weight of Verzutti's material is both real and fantastical. Yasumura's elevated photography allows a reflection on the incidental itself.

We look forward to sharing these works with you at NADA Miami booth A105, December 3-7, and preview by request.
