HAUSER & WIRTH AT ART BASEL PARIS 2024

Hauser Wirth is celebrating the return to the historic Grand Palais with a firework of historic and contemporary masterpieces by leading artists from its roster, showcasing the caliber of the gallery's multigenerational program. This selection spotlights artists who have profound links to Paris, including Louise Bourgeois, whose iconic 'Spider I' (1995) will climb the booth's walls. Historic highlights include Ed Clark's 'Red, Blue, & Black (Paris Series #4)' (1989), exemplifying 'the big sweep,' his celebrated painting technique developed in Paris. These historic works will be accompanied by Philip Guston's monumental 'Tears' (1977), created after the artist turned away from abstraction to assert a new figural language.

The fair selection features work by artists with major institutional shows in Paris. This includes a large-scale sculpture by Barbara Chase-Riboud, who is the subject of a city - wide solo exhibition in eight leading Parisian museums. Giving insight to Guillermo Kuitca's site-specific work for the Musée Picasso Paris, a painting by the artist will feature on the booth. Further standout works include a sculpture by Thomas J Price, who is featured at the Musée Rodin, and a new work by H  l  ne Delprat, who is participating in the 17th edition of the Lyon Biennale.

Marking Jeffrey Gibson's debut with the gallery following his representation, in collaboration with Sikkema Jenkins & Co., 'I will continue to change' (2024) exemplifies the Indigenous handcraft of beadwork, drawing on his Choctaw and Cherokee heritage. Mark Bradford's new mixed media on canvas, 'Not Quite in a Hurry' (2024), will be unveiled, alongside works straight from the studios of Rita Ackermann, Jenny Holzer, Avery Singer and Flora Yukhnovich.
